The author, publishers and any third parties connected to this e-book cannot be held responsible for any loss incurred from using the information provided in this book.

The strategies and methods outlined in BetInfo24 have been developed to give you a better chance of winning money, when followed correctly the systems should produce consistent profits, however we cannot guarantee or promise future profitability in anyway.

Although every effort has been made to produce a successful system that reduces the chance of losing, it is still classed as betting and any form of betting insures a risk factor. Only bet what you can afford to lose.

Ever wanted to make a second income or even a full time living on Betfair? Want the freedom to work when you like and have no Boss breathing down your neck? Well there is a simple trading technique that I have been using that generates a steady profit. I know some of you may have dabbled in trading before and found it too difficult, especially with all that money flying around, laying, liquidity, exposure, bar graphs, arbitrage and all the rest of it. Well rest assured because this is a basic strategy that reaps the rewards. I came across this idea a couple of years ago and have used it with great success ever since.

What is trading?

The basic concept of trading is easy to grasp. Betfair and other betting exchanges allow us to back and also Lay, therefore we can take advantage of price movements. If you can back a horse at 4/1 and Lay it at 2/1 then you can guarantee a profit regardless of the outcome. Basically you are betting on which way the price will move. There are many skilled traders out there that spend hours everyday making hundreds of trades. Don't get me wrong, trading can be very difficult, let alone stressful and lonely. Luckily the strategy I'm going to teach you is simple, and wont take up to much time. We are not going to jump in with the big boys. What we are going to do is play it clever, take or profit and run.

What is a LAY?

Before you trade you must understand what a LAY is. Basically 'LAY' means to 'back against the horse' When we LAY a horse we are betting on it 'Not to win'

Example of a trade

Here is a quick example of a simple trade. As you can see, there is a profit next to every horse. This is called 'Greening up'

We LAY a horse at 6 for £50 (liability = -£250)

We Back the same horse at 8 for £37.50 (If it wins we win £262.50)

So by Laying the horse at 6 and backing it at a higher price (8) we have guaranteed ourselves a profit of £12.50 regardless of the outcome, as you can see from the screenshot.

This is the basics of trading.

The screenshot shows a betting interface for a race at 14:45 in Wolverhampton. The race is a 1m6f Hcap with 11 runners. The betslip on the right shows a 'Back (Bet For)' bet on Scribe WIN at odds of 8 for a stake of 37.50, resulting in a profit of £262.50. Simultaneously, a 'Lay (Bet Against)' bet is placed on Scribe WIN at odds of 6 for a stake of 50, resulting in a liability of £250.00. The net profit is £12.50. The racecard on the left lists the following horses and their odds:

Horse	Back	Lay
Easydoesit (2)	2.48	2.5
Scribe (6)	4.8	5
Perfect Shot (1)	7.8	8
Richo (7)	14	14.5
Party Palace (10)	12.5	13.5
Shaker Style (12)	15	15.5
Table Forty Six (8)	17.5	18.5
Royal Defence (3)	38	40

The Strategy 'Make an easy £30 per Day'

Ok, so we will start with a modest £30 per day profit. May not sound much but that's an extra £840 per month. Now what could you do with that?

What you will need:

- 1) A Betfair account. I'm sure will already have one but if not you can click here now to get one. If you enter this code when you sign up you will be given Free money to bet with: 9JYTJGYC9
- 2) Access to the Racing Post website (this is free)
- 3) An essential piece of software that almost all successful traders rely on. Its called Bet Angel and it will make your life so much easier, let alone boost your Betfair account. To trade successfully you will need to download this software and learn how to use it. Now there is a cost for this software but it's well worth it.

I highly recommend that you purchase Bet Angel now. I personally go for the annual subscription as this is the best value. Click here but they do offer a free trial.

- 4) Pen and Paper
- 5) Oh yes!... and a starting bank. Preferably around £500 (don't worry, You will never have more than 20% at risk)

Ok, hopefully you now have all of the above and are now ready to make yourself an extra few quid.

The Strategy

Here is what we are going to do. We need to find 5 horses that will drift in price in running. This means that the price will get higher during the race.

We are going to Lay the horse (back against it, like in our previous example) just before the start of the race and then back the same horse at a higher price during the race. We will set this up to automatically trigger our bet and guarantee us a profit. This is where our Bet Angel software comes in.

Now you might be thinking, 'how do we know if the horse will drift in price', well this is the secret to my strategy. We are going to use a sneaky little tool that not many people are aware of. If you go to the racing Post website and click 'cards' then select a race, you will be given a list of all the runners.

This shows the horses last few runs, with the top one being its last run. Now If you look at the column that says 'RACE OUTCOME' you will notice that there is some nonsense that you probably don't understand. Not to worry, this is actually the name of the horse that won that race, or it will be the runner up if the horse in question finished 1st, but anyway, we are not interested in that. What we are interested in is how this horse runs it's races. Now here's the trick! If you hover your mouse over the writing in brackets (don't click) then a yellow box will appear with comments on how the horse ran this race. Now this is what we will be looking at.

To make a good profit from this strategy we are looking for horses that tend to run at the back of the field, or are pushed along early (in other words, struggling). The idea of this system is to take advantage of the price movements of horses we know will drift in price. If a horse is coming last it will drift a bit.

So now we know how to use the yellow comment boxes to find our horses, but there are a couple of rules and things to look out for. We don't want to be trawling through every horse in every race. So I have broken it down a bit.

- Make sure there are at least 10 runners
- * Try to avoid the favourite
  - The higher the odds the bigger the liability. Try to stick with horses priced between 4-8

Here are the kind of comments we are looking for:

- Held up in rear
- Slow to start
- Slowly into stride
- Always in rear
- Dwelt
- Chased leaders
- Driven along

You get the picture!!

Ok, now you know what you are looking for you can start to search for your horses. We are interested in the last 3 runs. Take a look at the running comments and if you get the impression that this horse is a slow starter or will run at the rear of the field or get pushed along early, and the odds fit our criteria then you can mark it as a selection.

Here are the comments for the last 3 races this horse has run:

Look at the comments in the yellow boxes. This gives us a very clear indication that this horse struggles but can come back to win. My prediction here is that this horse will drift in running and then may shorten again, by which time we will have already made our profit.

Follow this method and find 5 horses that you feel will drift in price. Our aim is to get 4 out of 5 correct each day.

How to place the bet and make a profit.

Now that you have your selections its time to trade them. Here is the example again. I am going to trade the horse mentioned above. As you can see from the screenshot below. The price to LAY this horse just before the off was 4.5

I LAY £50 @ 4.5 (liability ££175)

Once the race starts I set a back bet at 6.5 for £34 (potential win £190)

Half way through the race my 'back' bet gets matched and now I am 'greened up'

So if the horse loses, we win £50 from our LAY bet but lose £34 from the back bet (£16 profit)

If the horse wins, we win £190 from our back bet but lose £175 from our LAY bet (£15 profit)

So regardless of the outcome, we stand to make a nice profit. This is the basics of what we will be doing. But there is more to it that you must learn.

As it happens the horse we traded above did exactly as we thought. The price remained about the same for a bit and then the horse drifted to about 11 before being backed in again to drifting right out. We locked in a guaranteed profit. Easy money for us!!!!

IMPORTANT – Please make sure you have understood everything up to this point. Re-read the last chapter if you need to.

With me?... Great!, you have completed the first half of the guide and understand how to make a decent profit by laying certain horses and then backing them at a higher price in running. Now its time for the important stuff.

What happens if the price of our horse shortens and we face a potential 'massive' loss should the horse win?

Good question..... In this half of the book we are going to cover our 'Exit Strategy'. This is absolutely vital and any good trader will tell you that you must have an exit strategy and don't be afraid to take a small loss.

This is the reason many traders fail. Instead of taking one on the chin and trading out at a £20 loss, they let it run and hope the price moves back in their favor. Sometimes it will but sometimes it won't, and they get hit with a BIG loss.

.... But don't worry, this isn't going to happen to us!

How do we prevent this from happening?

We place what is known as a 'Stop Loss'. Basically we can tell Betfair to automatically place a bet for us should the price move in the wrong direction.

For example. We find a horse that fits our criteria. We LAY it at 6 and set a back bet in running at 8, unfortunately for us, the horse has had his Weetabix this morning and has taken a strong hold at the front. Other horses start to drop off and the price is plunging. With our 'Stop Loss' set, if the price reaches say 4, then it will be triggered and we will make a small loss on the race, not much harm is done.

If you just let the bet ride, hoping at some point your back bet would get triggered but the horse romped home, then you would face a huge loss. It really isn't worth the risk.

How to place a Stop loss?

This is where Bet Angel comes in, and this is why it's imperative that you download a copy, because not only is it a lot faster than the Betfair interface, it will save you a ton of money and hassle. There's a vast amount of tools that you can use with Bet Angel, but we will just stick to the basics.

All professional traders use software like Bet Angel. If you want that extra edge then you need the professional tools.

Now that you have Bet Angel there are a few things you need to do. First you must familiarize yourself with the software and interface. They actually use something called the ladder interface. Basically its just a different way of viewing the odds. It looks like this.....

Cancel	Bets	Odds	Cancel
-10.00		1.58	0.7%
-8.00		1.57	0.2%
-6.00		1.56	0.2%

Don't worry if you think it looks confusing, it's really simple once you get used to it.

I wont explain everything here because there are a ton of excellent videos on the Bet Angel site that explains everything. The things you need to know are:

- The ladder interface
- One click Stop loss
- Ticks
- Greening up

There are actually a load of videos that teach you how to trade, but for now just stick to our method.

Profit, Strategy, bets

Ok, this is going to be the last section of this book and I'm going to show you our strategy. The profits we will make and a re-cap of the bets.

Strategy - As I said at the start. We will be betting on 5 horses per day. Out of these 5 trades we hope to get 4 correct. Lets say we start with modest bets, and we aim to make £10 profit from each trade, if it goes wrong our stop loss will be set for a £10 loss, so we either win £10 or lose £10.

5 Trades
4 Wins = £40
1 loss = -£10

Total profit per day = £30

So this is our plan to make £30 per day!!

Once you are comfortable with this there are 2 things you can do to increase your profits.

- a) Increase your stakes
- b) Increase the margin. Traders like to call them ticks, so if we LAY at 6 and back at 8, you could set your back bet at 10 instead of 8. This would give you more profit. A little more risky but if the horse is going to drift, it usually drifts quite a bit. This would now give you a £20 profit instead of £10.

Using an example like earlier in the book, here is what your bet would look like (Bets with Stop Loss included)

I LAY £50 @ 6 (liability £250)

Once the race starts I set a back bet at 8 for £37.50 (potential win £262.50)

I also set a Stop Loss @ 4.8 for £62.50 (a guaranteed loss of £12.50 If its Triggered)

A few things to point out:

When setting your Stop Loss, you cant just set it at 2 ticks lower because you will leave yourself a greater liability. You have to calculate the correct odds to set your stop loss at.

You will find out that there are different outcomes you can leave yourself with. Example. When setting your stop loss, do so for the same amount as your original bet and if your Stop loss is triggered then you will only lose money should the horse win, if it loses you break even. Obviously if it does win then you will lose more money.

Using Bet Angel you can set this up automatically so that once the race starts, your back bet will get triggered and you will make a profit, or your Stop Loss will get triggered and you will make a loss. But as we know from our research, our back bet will get matched more times than our Stop Loss. In effect, we are placing an even money bet that wins considerably more than 50%..... Now that my friends is how you make a nice income from trading on Betfair.

So there you go.... Find 5 horses that you think will drift in price by using the methods I taught you. Get Bet angel and a Betfair account and your good to go!

Help and support:

As I have decided to give this system away for free, Im afraid I can't offer any support due to the amount of time it takes up. I have however set up a forum on our blog so if you have any questions or would like to discuss anything regarding the system with other members then you can do. You can find the page at:
